SELECTED IN CAUCUS

Democratic Delegates Chosen in the Several Silver Bow Precincts.

FOR PRIMARIES TO-NIGHT

There Was Very Little Friction Except in a Couple of Places Where Contests May Arise—Two Tickets in No. 14.

Democratic caucuses were held last evening in the precincts of Silver Bow county for the purpose of selecting lists of delegates and alternates to be voted on at the primaries to-night, which will be held from 5 to 8 o'clock p. m. Never in Butte were the caucuses more generally attended, unusual interest being shown in each precinct. In a few precincts there were some hot fights, but as a rule everything was harmonious, and satisfactory tickets were selected. There are prospects of a few contests at the primaries to-night. In most of the precincts the caucus tickets will probably be selected without opposition. In Walkerville a plan was followed different from that in use in the balance of the county. THE VOLUNTEERS.

Major Blackhurst Will Speak at the Auditorium this Evening.

The Volunteer army movement in Butte will be inaugurated at the Auditorium to-night, when Major Washington Blackhurst, commander of the Pacific coast battalion of the Volunteers of America, will deliver an address and give an explanation of the situation, stating the causes which led to the dismissal of Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth from the Salvation army and giving reasons for starting the Volunteer movement. Major Blackhurst is one of the leading Volunteer workers in the United States. He was formerly private secretary to Ballington Booth and organized the first volunteer battalion in Chicago. He is a great worker. The Chicago meeting was held in the Auditorium for which a rental of $600 a night was charged and he concluded his meeting of five nights free of debt. For several months he has been in San Francisco and vicinity. In that city his work created so much enthusiasm and attracted such crowds that he has been able to secure the old Y. M. C. A. building as permanent barracks for the Volunteers. The object of his present trip through the Northwest is to form new barracks and strengthen those already formed. He has already visited the cities of Northern California and Oregon, Tacoma, Seattle, Walla Walla, Spokane, Penitence and other towns. He denies that there is in the new movement any spirit of antagonism to the old organization, and says the new one is prospering wonderfully throughout the country. The Butte meeting will be limited to this evening and to-morrow evening.

Major Blackhurst is spoken of as a pleasant and entertaining talker. In his addresses he denies that Ballington Booth disobeyed orders, but that on the contrary he proceeded to farewell as ordered and gave up the keys to the army property, and when ordered to England for court martial he did not demur, but he could not accede to it and submitted a proposition which was not accepted and he was dismissed from the army. A martyr to the cause. In a letter to his father he presented 22 grievances which have never been made public and probably never will be. He suffered calumny and misrepresentation sooner than do anything to injure the cause. He and his wife for nine years led the army work in America and they imbued too freely of the American spirit to suit the London autocracy. A man breathing the free air of America is not going to follow blindly, and it is natural that an American commander should act more wisely than those over in England.

BRAVE MR. AITKEN

The Fireman Rescues a Little Child From a Burning Building.

FORSAKEN BY MRS. BROBANK

When the Building Caught Fire the Woman Ran Away, Leaving her Children in the house—the Blaze Was Extinguished.

A fire that would not have attracted much attention but for the fact that the life of a child who would otherwise have been burned to death was saved through the bravery of Fireman George Aitken, occurred at a little after 7 o'clock last evening in a small frame building at No. 309 West Main street alley near the Colorado school. The house in which the fire started was just north of the O'Donnell row and in the middle of a long row of similar buildings, and was occupied by Mrs. Caroline Brobank and her two grandchildren, a 5-year-old girl and a little boy who is 3 years and a half old. The boy is a bright and handsome little fellow, and is familiarly known as "Mac." Mrs. Mary Ross, who is Mrs. Brobank's daughter, is the mother of the children, but she works out and is home so seldom that the children are almost entirely in the care of their grandmother. Mrs. Brobank was a county charge for a long time, but her name was stricken from the charity roll a short time ago, and since then she has been supported by her daughter. She is in the habit of going on periodical sprees, and it was largely for this reason that the county refused to support her any longer.

The neighbors say that she was under the influence of liquor yesterday afternoon and they attribute the fire to this fact. The house in which she lived contained two rooms and a shed, which was evidently used as a kitchen, was built onto the rear. A little after 7 o'clock fire burst out in the shed and the next minute Mrs. Brobank ran screaming out of the front door and ran up the alley towards the city. Both children were left in the house, but she gave no thought to them or their safety. The little girl followed her grandmother through the front door, but little Mac was left behind sound asleep on a sofa up against the rear wall of the house and not more than six feet from where the fire started. The fire spread rapidly, and when the department arrived in response to an alarm from box 84, all of the rear end of the house was blazing fiercely and the fire had spread into the back room in which the baby was sleeping.

Just before the firemen arrived the neighbors learned that the baby was asleep in the back room and several of them tried to reach him, but were driven back by the smoke and flames. George Aitken was informed of the situation and without a second's hesitation he dashed into the burning room, threw himself down on his hands and knees and crawled across the room and then back again with the baby in his arms. The child's clothing was just commencing to burn when the brave fireman reached him, and in another minute the rescuer would have been too late. When little Mac was carried out into the air his rescuer was received with cheers from the spectators. The boy was carried into a neighbor's house, where he was given every attention and Dr. McCormick was quickly in attendance. He found that the child's arms and face were quite badly but not seriously burned and that the skin had peeled off from his legs in a few places. Soothing lotions made the little fellow soon forget his burns and in a week or two he will be none the worse for his very narrow escape.

The firemen made short work of the fire and the loss will not amount to more than $300. The house in which the fire started was damaged only in the rear and the two adjoining houses were scorched on the side nearest the fire. The house occupied by Mrs. Brobank and the one immediately north, which is occupied by Mrs. Mary Ragsdale, are owned by J. W. Bell and are insured for $200 each. The house on the south is owned and occupied by Ed O'Donnell and was only slightly scorched.

On these goods we are out of profits, but we are out for your trade and increased business. Outbuyers are returning from the East and Winter Stuffs are piling in on us very fast.
